Frequently Asked Questions

What is a bequest intention?

A bequest intention is a gift Middlebury will receive at some future date. You designate Middlebury to receive a benefit from your will(s) trust, retirement plan, life insurance policy, commercial annuity, or donor advised fund (DAF). Other gifts to be received in the future may also qualify, and we welcome your questions about them.

How do I determine the amount of my bequest intention if it is not a specific amount?

If you are leaving a portion of your estate/retirement account/life insurance/DAF, please provide your best estimate of what Middlebury may expect to receive, based on today's value.

May I designate my bequest intention to a specific program or initiative?

Unrestricted bequest intentions allow Middlebury to use your gift where the need is greatest when it is received. However, you may designate your bequest intention to a specific department, program, or initiative such as financial aid. You may also add it to an existing endowed fund. If you choose to restrict your bequest intention, please contact us to discuss your goals and objectives.

What happens if my estate cannot fulfill my bequest intention?

This confidential statement of gift intention form is not a legally binding document; there is no formal obligation. Your commitment is not legally binding to your estate or your heirs.

Why share information about my bequest intention?

Sharing information enables Middlebury to recognize and thank you. You provide an inspiring example for others to follow. It offers the opportunity to discuss and clarify your goals and objectives. By inviting you to join the Cane Society, we aim to strengthen and maintain your connection with Middlebury. The information you provide will remain confidential.

What happens if I change my estate plan?

We understand your plans may change in the future. If you make changes that affect your bequest intention, we ask you inform us in writing so we can accurately reflect your plans for Middlebury.
